Laurel Cove is a natural forest cove transformed into a beautiful open-air amphitheatre. With chair-back seating for 489 and additional bench-style seating for 500, this hidden jewel is perfect for concerts, theatre productions, weddings, reunions, church picnics and more.

This site features all of the necessities for your group's special event: public rest rooms, dressing room cabin, ticket booth, gated entry for security, 200 amp electrical hookups, overhead lighting, a 1200-square-foot portable stage and convenient access to a picnic shelter (Redbud Shelter). Laurel Cove is the location of the longest-running festival in Kentucky, the Mountain Laurel Festival, which is held the last weekend in May.
